EARLY HISTORY OF HONG KONG

The history of the Hong Kong community is really much longer than the history of the territory itself. It begins with the arrival of the first Europeans, the Portuguese, on the China coast, in 1513, and in the problems they faced in trying to establish commercial relations with China, where the main current of authoritative opinion was traditionally not interested in foreign trade.

By dint of persistence, the Portuguese were allowed to establish themselves at Macao, in 1557, but when the British and Dutch reached the Far East, in the first decade of the 17th century, they found their way blocked by Chinese refusal to deal with any Europeans other than the Portuguese. Operating from their base at Bantam, in West Java, the East India Company first established a trading factory near Nagasaki, Japan (1613-23), but it proved a commercial failure and was closed down. Beginning with the Weddell expedition in 1635, a number of British attempts were made to open trade with Canton, Amoy, and other Chinese ports; but it was not until 1700 that regular British trade with China began, as a result of a change in Chinese policy, permitting trade with countries that did not acknowledge China as suzerain.

From then on, European trade with China developed steadily, with the British as the principal European nation concerned. From about 1705 the East India Company had a house in Canton, but Europeans were obliged to quit the city during the off-season. Other European Companies and individual traders soon solved this problem by renting houses in Macao, a practice which, though strictly against Portuguese law, was tolerated. In 1773 East India Company followed the example of other nations and established themselves permanently in Macao, the Company's officers proceeding to Canton for each trading season.

Trade with the Chinese was conducted through a Chinese monopoly guild, charging prices far in excess of market values, and itself subject to ruthless extortion by corrupt officials. Two British diplomatic missions, in 1793 and 1816, failed to obtain better treatment of British merchants in China, or a better basis for international trade; and little change might have been expected had not the East India Company's charter been abolished, in India in 1813, and in China in 1833. These changes were the direct result of the acquisition of power in Great Britain by a new class, owing its wealth and influence to the Industrial Revolution, with free trade as its commercial doctrine. The China trade fell firmly into the hands of those independent merchants who, while the East India Company remained in power, had had only limited chances of showing their capability.

The British led the way in demanding that the Chinese Government provide Europeans with a port, where they could be free to trade with whom they wished, under their own laws. Finally, on the long-term issue of proper treatment for foreign traders, and on the more immediate issue of the import of opium into China, war between Great Britain and China broke out (1839-42). In the course of this, the Emperor's negotiator with a British plenipotentiary, Captain Charles Elliot, R.N. provisionally offered the island of Hong Kong as a trading depot. This offer was immediately accepted, and without waiting for its confirmation the British occupied the island in January 1841. The cession of Hong Kong to the British Crown was confirmed by the Treaty of Nanking, 1842. From the start, Hong Kong was declared a free port, open to all comers, and thus it has grown into one of the world's greatest international trading centres.

In 1860, by the Convention of Peking, Kowloon and Stonecutters' Island were ceded to the Crown; and in 1898, by another Convention of Peking, the area known as the New Territories was leased to Great Britain for 99 years, thus bringing the territory to its present size.

HONG KONG

Prior to 1841 there was no recognised name for the island of Hong Kong. The anchorage at Aberdeen was known to sailors as Heung Kong. The Chinese characters representing the name may be translated by "Fragrant Streams" or "Fragrant Harbour." Another possible rendering is "Heung's Harbour," the haunt of a notorious character named Heung.

Kowloon is the anglicised form of the Chinese Kau Lung (nine dragons). This name is derived from the ridge of nine hills which form a rampart along the northern side of the harbour and seem to guard the approach to China.

A book entitled "China" published in 1847, contains a chapter with the following heading: "Hong Kong, its position, prospects, character and utter worthlessness from every point of view to the English." To-day one laughs at that prophecy. However, when it was written there seemed to be reason for such gloomy forboding for the place had an unenviable reputation for rain-storms, typhoons, pirates, prisoners, malaria, dysentery; etc., and in England contempt for the new colony was expressed in the then popular song, "You may go to Hong Kong for me."

To-day this formerly despised possession is one of the world's busiest ports, and for an eastern city is remarkably clean, peaceable and healthy. As one writer remarks: "Hong Kong is a splendid example of what can be accomplished by energy and capital associated with the courage and restraint that go hand-in-hand with British colonisation. Over 100 years of patient administration by 25 governors and 12 administrators have brought Hong Kong into the front rank of the world's commerce. This happy achievement is due in no small measure to the harmonious working to two such different peoples as the British and the Chinese."

Hong Kong International Airport, Kai Tak, is situated on the North shore of Kowloon Bay, three miles from the centre of Kowloon. Regularly used by 31 international airlines which provide frequent services throughout the Far East and to Europe, North America, Africa, Australia and New Zealand. In addition there are many charter airlines using the airport, from which scheduled domestic helicopter services are also operated.

The airport makes Hong Kong an important link on the air routes of the Far East, with its 8,350 feet long, 200 feet wide runway built on a promontory of reclaimed land extending south east into Kowloon Bay. It is now being extended to 11,130 feet.

As an international civil airport, Kai Tak, offer full operational facilities, with high and low intensity approach, runway and taxiway lighting, and hazard beacons located at strategic points. Special high intensity "strobe lights" are installed at the south east end of the runway promontory and at various points on the approaches to both runways to aid pilots in condition of poor visibility.

The whole system is integrated with long and medium range surveillance radar, an instrument landing system and various radio navigational beacons.

The terminal building which came into use at the end of 1962 has since been extended to accommodate the increased number of passengers passing through the airport. The freight building has also been extended to provide additional accommodation for the steadily increasing cargo traffic.

In 1971-72, 49,363 aircraft arrived and departed on international flights carrying 2.49 million passengers 4,063 metric tons of mail and 78,210 metric tons of cargo.

Hong Kong provides a wide range of articles including cotton yarn and piece goods, synthetic yarns and piece goods, shirts, garments, woollen knitwear, embroidered outerwear, permanent press trousers, footwear, steel and wooden furniture, enamelware and all types of metalware, plastic articles including plastic footwear and flowers, all types of toys and household utensils, vacuum flasks, moulds, machines, AM and FM transistor radios, TV sets, various types of electronic components including TV tuners, capacitors, transistors, integrated circuits, computer memory cores, watches and clocks, optical equipment including binoculars and cameras, wigs including synthetic wigs, lacquers, varnishes and paints, rattan articles, iron/steel bars and rounds, cement and food stuffs (including beverages), electrical appliances including fans and air-conditioners.

The climate is sub-tropical and monsoonal. Winter is cool and dry; summer hot and humid. The mean daily temperature ranges from 15°C in February to 28°C in July. The average annual rainfall is 85 inches, three quarters falling between May and September.

Few places can show such a variety of games and recreations. Golf, tennis and yachting are popular all the year round; football (rugby and association), cricket and hockey are played in the winter months; in the summer lawn bowls, lawn tennis and baseball are played, and perfect bathing is enjoyed. The Jockey Club hold a three-day annual meeting every February in addition to the many other race meetings throughout the season.

In Hong Kong East meets West. The latest from London, Paris and New York can be found cheek by jowl, with all the alluring work of the Orient. If one wishes to travel in town one may do so by motorcar, taxi, bus, tram and rickshaw, while in the harbour motorboats, ferries, launches and sampans are at one's disposal.

The provision of an adequate water supply has always posed difficulties because Hong Kong has no large rivers or underground supplies. In 1963, a 5,390 million gallon reservoir at Shek Pik on Lantau Island was brought into use. Water from it is pumped to Hong Kong Island along eight miles of submarine pipeline. The Plover Cove reservoir, largest and costliest project ever undertaken by the Hong Kong Government, was brought into supply in 1967. Created by dredging, damming and draining an inlet of Tolo Channel, on the east coast of the New Territories, it has a storage capacity of 37,000 million gallons. Hong Kong also purchases 15,000 million gallons of water annually, for a period of nine months from 1st October to 30th June, by agreement with the People's Council of Kwangtung Province. The agreement provides for additional supplies by negotiation between the two parties.

Three projects are now under-way to further increase supplies. One involves the raising of the Plover Cove spillway and dams by 12 feet, bringing the reservoir's total storage capacity up to 50,000 million gallons. Another is for a HK$450 million desalination plant which will produce 40 million gallons a day by 1975, and be the largest desalination plant in the world. The final scheme is the HK$850 million High Island Reservoir, which is the last potential reservoir for Hong Kong. Due for completion in 1978, it will have a capacity of 60,000 million gallons, and will be formed by damming, draining and restocking the sea channel between High Island and Sai Kung peninsula.

Hong Kong boasts two universities, secondary and primary schools, numerous places of worship, up-to-date hospitals, modern cinema houses, and the finest golf course (at Fanling, in the New Territories) in the Far East.

Hong Kong has a large and active press. At September, 1971 288 publications of various kinds were listed by the Registrar of Newspapers. 101 of these were newspapers. The remainder were mainly magazines.

Government-owned Radio Hong Kong broadcasts two main services, one in English and the other in Chinese. Both services are on the air 18 and 19 hours a day, respectively.

Rediffusion (Hong Kong) Ltd. operates wired sound and television services, and in November 1967 Hong Kong Television Broadcasts Ltd. made technical history as the first television station in the world to commence its transmissions in both colour and black and white.

Commercial Radio went on the air in August, 1959, broadcasting 17 hours a day in English and Cantonese.

Administration

The Government of Hong Kong derives its constitutional authority from Letters Patent and Royal Instructions issued from time to time and is administered by a Governor assisted by an Executive Council and a Legislative Council. The Executive Council, which is consulted by the Governor on all important administrative matters, includes the Commander, British Forces, the Colonial Secretary, the Attorney-General, the Secretary for Home Affairs, the Financial Secretary (who are members ex-officio), and such other members, both official and unofficial, as may be appointed. At present there is one appointed official member and eight appointed unofficial members.

The Legislative Council consists of the Governor as President; not more than fourteen official members, four of whom, namely, the Colonial Secretary, the Attorney-General, the Secretary for Home Affairs and the Financial Secretary, are ex-officio members; and not more than fifteen unofficial members, who are appointed by the Governor. The procedure of this Council, by which all legislation is enacted and all expenditure from public funds is approved, is based broadly on that of the House of Commons.

TROPICAL CYCLONE PLOTTING MAP

You may use this map for recording the movement of a tropical cyclone, by plotting the estimated positions of its centre from the latitude and longitude values contained in broadcast warning bulletins. These values are given to the nearest tenth of a degree and the precision of the plotted position often will be higher than is warranted by the accuracy of the fix. Therefore, small erratic movements indicated on the plotted track should not necessarily be interpreted as real movements of the tropical cyclone.

HONG KONG'S TROPICAL CYCLONE WARNING SIGNALS

SIGNAL		DISPLAY		MEANING of the signal	What will happen and what you should do
		Symbol	Lights
STAND BY	1		WHITE WHITE WHITE	A TROPICAL CYCLONE IS CENTRED WITHIN ABOUT 400 NAUTICAL MILES OF HONG KONG AND MAY LATER CAUSE DESTRUCTIVE WINDS IN THE COLONY.	This is a stand by signal indicating that the tropical cyclone is a potential threat to Hong Kong. Listen to your radio for warnings and if necessary remain on call.
STRONG WIND	3		GREEN WHITE GREEN	STRONG WIND EXPECTED, WITH A SUSTAINED SPEED OF 22-33 KNOTS AND GUSTS WHICH MAY EXCEED 60 KNOTS. The hoisting of this signal normally gives about 12 hours warning of a strong wind in Victoria Harbour.	Secure hoardings, scaffolding, temporary structures and all loose objects, particularly on balconies and roof tops. Clear gutters and drains. Take full precautions for the safety of boats. Ships in port normally leave for typhoon anchorages or buoys. When the wind becomes strong it may affect some ferry services, particularly if the piers are exposed to the wind.
NW'LY GALE OR STORM	8 NW		WHITE GREEN GREEN	GALE OR STORM EXPECTED, WITH A SUSTAINED WIND SPEED OF 34-63 KNOTS FROM THE QUARTER INDICATED AND GUSTS WHICH MAY EXCEED 100 KNOTS.	All schools and law courts close and ferries will probably stop running at short notice. Windows and doors should be bolted and shuttered and full precautions must be completed as soon as possible. It is extremely dangerous to delay precautions until the hoisting of No. 9 or No. 10 signal as the latter are signals of great urgency. As the winds increase, stay indoors to avoid flying debris but if you must go out keep well clear of overhead wires and hoardings.
SW'LY GALE OR STORM	8 SW		GREEN WHITE WHITE	These four signals are equally significant with regard to wind speed. Normally, the first of these signals is hoisted about 12 hours before the gale affects Victoria Harbour.
NE'LY GALE OR STORM	8 NE		GREEN GREEN WHITE
SE'LY GALE OR STORM	8 SE		WHITE WHITE GREEN
INCREASING GALE OR STORM	9		GREEN GREEN GREEN	GALE OR STORM EXPECTED TO INCREASE SIGNIFICANTLY IN STRENGTH. Generally, the sustained wind speed will reach the range 48-63 knots within three hours of this signal being hoisted.	These signals imply that the centre of a severe tropical storm or a typhoon will come close to the Colony. If the eye passes over there will be a lull lasting from a few minutes to some hours but be prepared for a sudden resumption of destructive winds from a different direction. The tide will probably be higher than normal particularly in narrow inlets. If this happens near the time of normal high tide then low lying areas may have to be evacuated very quickly. Heavy rain may cause flooding, dangerous rockfalls and mudslides.
HURRICANE	10		RED GREEN RED	HURRICANE FORCE WIND EXPECTED, WITH SUSTAINED SPEED REACHING UPWARDS FROM 64 KNOTS AND WITH GUSTS THAT MAY EXCEED 120 KNOTS. This signal is hoisted as soon as there are definite indications that the sustained wind speed anywhere near sea level in Hong Kong is likely to exceed 63 knots.

* IMPORTANT SIGNALS NOS. 8NW, 8SW, 8NE AND 8SE WILL BE USED WITH EFFECT FROM 1ST JANUARY 1973. UNTIL THEN THE OLD NUMBERS 5, 6, 7 AND 8 WILL BE USED INSTEAD OF 8NW, 8SW, 8NE AND 8SE RESPECTIVELY.

LEASED CIRCUITS

These are telegraph or speech circuits with places overseas provided for the exclusive use of a customer on a rental basis.

Leased telegraph circuits use subscribers' equipment similar to, although somewhat more elaborate than, that used for telex. The operating procedure is comparable except that of course the connection to the distant office is permanent (or on an agreed schedule basis).

Further information, including charges, can be obtained on application to Cable & Wireless, Commercial Department.

ABRIDGED RULES

1. ORDINARY TELEGRAMS

Rates as shown subject to a minimum charge as for 7 words.

The text of an ordinary telegram may be written in Plain Language or in Secret Language or in a mixture of both.

PLAIN LANGUAGE. Telegrams written entirely in Plain Language are counted at the rate of 15 letters to the word. Commercial marks, exchange quotations, etc. are counted at the rate of 5 characters to the word.

SECRET LANGUAGE. Telegrams written entirely in Secret Language are counted at the rate of 5 letters or characters to the word.

MIXED LANGUAGE. Telegrams written in a mixture of Plain and Secret Languages are governed by the rules of counting for Plain and Secret Language above.

2. URGENT TELEGRAMS

Priority of transmission and of delivery may be obtained to places where urgent telegrams are admitted by writing before the address the paid service instruction —Urgent—, which is counted and charged for as one word. The rate for urgent telegrams is double ordinary rate, with a minimum charge as for 7 words.

3. LETTER TELEGRAMS (LT)

Rates as shown subject to a minimum charge as for 22 words.

The text of a letter telegram must be written in Plain Language. Letter telegrams must bear before the address the paid service instruction —LT— which is counted and charged for as one word. The delivery of letter telegrams shall take place after 0800 o'clock local time, on the morning after the date of deposit.

4. SOCIAL TELEGRAMS (GLT)

The minimum charge for a Press telegram is as for 14 words.

6. RADIOTELEGRAMS

Telegrams exchanged with ships at sea through Coast Stations are subject to the normal telegraph charges to the country in which the coast station is situated, increased by the respective coast and ship charges for the radio transmission. Letter Telegrams are not admitted.

7. PREPAID REPLIES

The sender of a telegram may prepay a reply from his correspondent in those countries which admit this facility, by writing before the address the paid service instruction —Reply Paid— or —RP— followed by the amount prepaid for the reply. This instruction —RPx— is counted and charged for as one word.

The voucher can only be used to pay for a telegram within a period of three months following the date of its issue.

8. REPEATED OR COLLATED TELEGRAMS

9. MULTIPLE-ADDRESS TELEGRAMS

Destinations	Per copy not exceeding 50 chargeable words	Each Additional 50 words or part thereof
British Commonwealth . . .	$1.80	$0.90

The indication —LX— is chargeable as one word and in addition to the normal charges for the telegram a supplementary fee of $0.60 is payable. In multiple address telegrams, the indication must be written before each separate address, and the supplementary fee collected in respect of each address. The service is available for all classes of public telegrams.

The service is available even if the distant teleprinter is unattended, provided that the teleprinter power remains switched on. The message will then be available for attention when the distant office opens.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Telex Controller, Telephone No. 5-245055.

HONG KONG SUMMER TIME:

Clocks are advanced one hour on the first Sunday after 15th April and retarded one hour on the first Sunday after 15th October.

AIR MAIL AND AIR PARCEL SERVICES FROM HONG KONG

General Information

In general the limits of weight and dimensions and other conditions (except postage rates) prescribed for surface mails, apply also to articles to be sent by air. Particulars are available at any Post Office of those categories of articles which are prohibited transmission owing to their dangerous nature.

Countries are divided into four zones according to distance for the purpose of charging air postage on letter mail. The air postage rates for letter mails to the four zones are shown in the table below:

Zones	Letters (each ½ oz.)	Postcards (each) Second Class Mail (each ½ oz.)
1	50 ¢	25 ¢
2	$1.30	65 ¢
3	$2.00	$1.00
4	$2.50	$1.25

A BLUE AIR MAIL LABEL, obtainable free at any post office, should be affixed to all air mail correspondence at the top left hand corner on the address side. Or you may write the words BY AIR MAIL boldly in the same place, but the label is more likely to catch the sorter's eye.

AEROGRAMMES (Air Letter forms) may be sent to all countries at a uniform rate of 50 cents. Enclosures are not permitted. You may get the special forms at Post Offices or use privately-manufactured forms which bear a statement that they have been approved by the Postmaster-General with the approval number. Unapproved forms will be treated as ordinary air mail letters.

SECOND CLASS AIR MAIL. Printed papers, Small Packets, Blind literature, etc., sent by air must conform to the regulations for such articles apart from those relating to weight steps, and must be clearly marked in the upper left hand corner of the cover for the service intended, "Printed Papers", "Small Packets", etc. Such items must not be sealed against inspection and must not contain anything in the nature of a current letter.

INSURED LETTERS AND BOXES may be sent by air to the countries indicated, subject to the same regulations as insured letters and boxes sent by surface. The normal insurance and registration fees are payable in addition to the letter air postage rate in the case of insured letters, and in addition to the second class air postage rate in the case of insured boxes. Insured boxes are subject to the minimum charge of $1.50 plus the insurance and registration fees.

AIR PARCELS may be sent by air to the countries shown, subject to the general regulations applicable to surface parcels as regards weight limitations, customs declarations, despatch notes, compensations, etc. Insured parcels are accepted for the countries indicated. A blue air mail label must be affixed to the address side of the parcel and to the despatch note.

EXPRESS service is available for airmails and air parcels to the United Kingdom only.

CORRECT POSTAGE ESSENTIAL. Please make sure that the correct postage is paid: underpaid airmail items may be sent by surface route and suffer delay.

(The services and charges set out below are liable to change. Up-to-date information may be obtained at all post offices).

AUSTRALIAN products have one thing in common: SALESPOWER.

You'll see "Made in Australia" on products ranging from tractors to textiles selling in markets all over Asia. The range is growing all the time. And so is the demand. Australia's exports to the Asian region have risen 56% in three years — to a total of $A2,130 million in the financial year 1971/72. Which proves a point. Australian products mean value for customers — whether importers or consumers. Delivery is prompt, prices competitive. The Australian Senior Trade Commissioner in Hong Kong will be pleased to tell you more. You can contact him at — Australian Commission, 10th Floor, Connaught Centre, Connaught Road Central, Hong Kong. Phone H227171-8.
